Question No.: AOC 1-2 Part No.: Addendum:

Question:

Is there a correlation between MISO MTEP project amounts by year and Entergy's annual transmission closing to plant?

Response:

Transmission projects pursued through the MTEP process are a subset of the Entergy Operating Company's total transmission investment. The value of MTEP projects that close to plant each year both in absolute dollars and as a percentage of total transmission plant closing will vary each year depending on many factors including the size of transmission projects pursued, construction scheduling, and reliability/operational needs.
