

Notice: Western Area Power Administration (WAPA) proposes revisions to its Open Access Transmission Tariff (OATT) to address the Desert Southwest Region's (DSW) participation in the California Independent System Operator's (CAISO) Western Energy Imbalance Market (EIM)

(OATT Revision 22-01)

June 2, 2022

WAPA is proposing OATT Revision 22-01 to address participation by DSW in the CAISO's EIM. DSW's participation in the EIM is expected to be effective on or around April 5, 2023. Information regarding DSW's planned participation in the EIM is available at the following link:

<https://www.wapa.gov/regions/DSW/Pages/DSW-EIM.aspx>.

General information on participation by WAPA in Western Interconnection energy imbalance service markets is available on wapa.gov.

WAPA's OATT Revision 22-01 will address DSW's participation in the EIM, as well as other minor OATT clean-up and maintenance updates. Provisions for DSW's EIM participation will be proposed primarily under a new Attachment T to the WAPA OATT. WAPA is seeking comments on these proposed OATT revisions from all interested stakeholders through an informal stakeholder comment process. WAPA's informal stakeholder process for OATT Revision 22-01 will include a Stakeholder Meeting (via WebEx) scheduled for July 14, 2022, at 10 am MDT/9 am Arizona Time. The Stakeholder Meeting is part of WAPA's process to seek stakeholder comments on the proposed OATT revisions. WAPA's informal stakeholder process will include a 30-day stakeholder comment period. WAPA's 30-day comment period will begin once WAPA posts the complete proposed OATT revisions on its Regional Open Access Same-Time Information System (OASIS) sites ahead of the July 14, 2022, Stakeholder Meeting.

WAPA encourages interested parties to monitor for OATT Revision 22-01 status updates on WAPA's OASIS. Status updates will include additional announcements when proposed OATT Revision 22-01 redlines are complete and posted on or around July 1, 2022. WAPA OATT revision updates are posted at the following link: WAPA OATT Revision Information webpage.
